Assignment Description

Write one page, double spaced, introducing yourself to me as a person, student, designer, and engineer. Max length 3 pages. What motivates you? What inspires you? Include anything you'd like me to know about your learning, communication, and teamworking styles.

Be sure to include:

- Your name
- What you like about design and engineering
- What you hope to learn or gain from this course
- How you like to receive feedback
- A description of your communication/teamworking style
  - Are you shy or outgoing? Confrontational or indirect? Do you like to be engaged in conversation or do you prefer to be invited in? Do you take on a leadership role or supportive one? What is your ideal team like?
- 1-2+ things you would like me to help you achieve this term
  - Do you want to learn a certain skill? Do you want to become a stronger communicator? Do you want work/college preparedness tips? Let me know!
- Anything else you find relevant to your performance and engagement in this class
